

Specialist Routes to Progress in the Faculty of Occupational Hygiene

These are the pathways available for those who specialise in one area of occupational hygiene to progress within the Faculty of Occupational Hygiene (FOH). The primary starting point is indicated by the box outlined in purple at the bottom of the page. The Associate grade is your first step and with the support of the Faculty you can work your way up to become a Specialist Member, a title reserved for those at the highest level of their specialism.

Notes

1. These are the 'W' series Occupational Hygiene Modules
2. Some Proficiency Modules can be grouped to form the equivalent Occupational Hygiene Module
3. PLP is a Personal Learning Portfolio covering at least 3 years of professional experience
4. W201 can be taken at any point
